The Willow

The first Hagood Home rests among the moss covered oaks and towering pine trees of Barnwell, South Carolina. Built in 1841 by Jim Kenny's great grandfather, Johnson Hagood, it remains a living, breathing home filled with the spirit of inspiration. In fact, Jim's mother resides there today!

In 1996, Jim and Troy Kenny officially continued the Hagood building legacy by creating Hagood Homes, Inc. Jim has instilled quality in every home and in every person responsible for the construction while Troy has ensured that every home design is a true original. Every one at Hagood Homes strives to make each home "live better."

The combination of inspiration, heart and hard work has proven successful for Jim and Troy Kenny. Together they have won the prestigious Parade of Homes Gold Award for several consecutive years as well as perfect scores for their designs and quality of work. Hagood Homes' focus is to produce a quality product with integrity while maintaining the solid reputation Jim and Troy created.

The tradition and quality of that very first Hagood Home has set the precedence for present and future Hagood Homes. We are delighted to welcome Jim, Troy and the team at Hagood Homes to the Showcase of Homes at Woodlands Park!
