GW
CONSTRUCTION

The American tradition of building reputations on quality, trust and dedication are more than mere thoughts for the Geoff Weatherwax Construction team — they are the guiding principals for building superior homes. Since 1993, they have been building custom homes in St. James Plantation and surrounding Brunswick County, NC and have built a solid foundation on the services they provide — from custom home designs and construction to additions and remodeling, all the way through the move-in process and beyond.

Part of providing personal attention and service is that you, as the homebuyers, have a significant cooperative role in the building process. After all it's your personality that we try to bring through in the architecture, the location and the amenities!

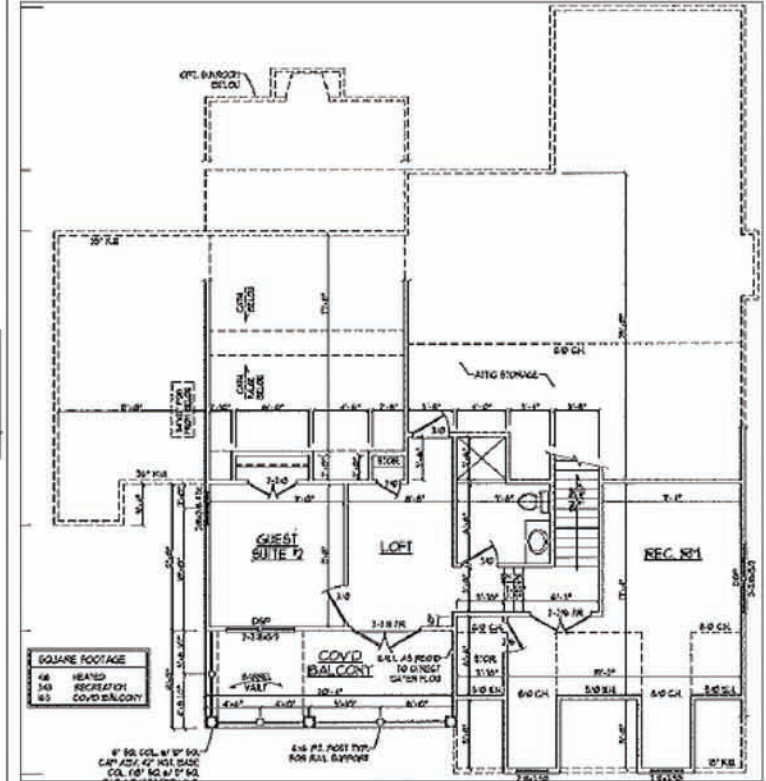

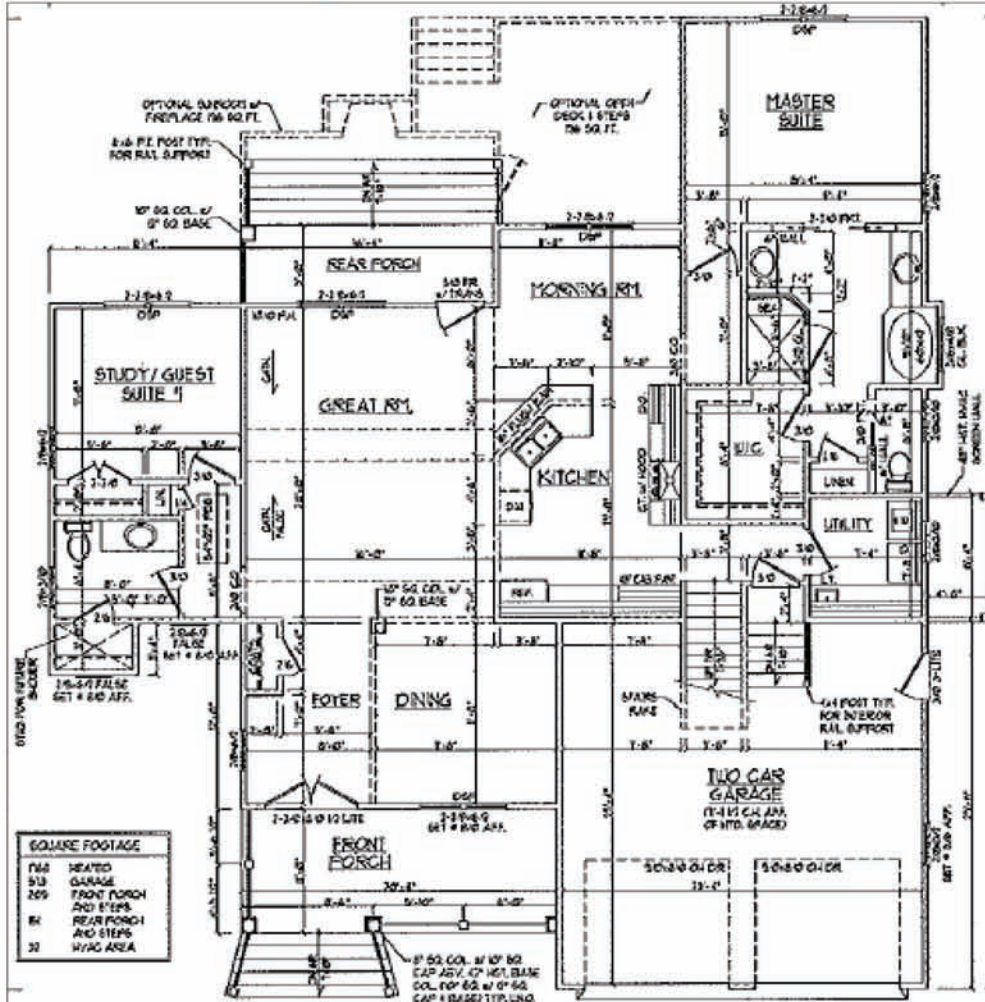

For more than 20 years, we have tried to make the home building process the most enjoyable it can be, while offering the best in quality and comfort. At Geoff Weatherwax Construction, we live where we build and we build on your dreams! We are delighted to welcome Geoff and his team at Geoff Weatherwax Construction to the Showcase of Homes at Woodlands Park!
